ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE

AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

(FOR THE COUNTRY.)

THURSDAYS and SATURDAYS, at $6 per annum-payable in advance. BEAU HICKMAN.

That prince of dead beats and Tycoon of bummers, Beau Hickman, is in New York and has been interviewed by a reporter of the New York Standard. Among other questions put to the "great chip collector" were : "Do you take much interest in current polities, Mr. Hickman ?" O, yes. Always go to those conventions—especially Presidential. Thought of going up to Rochester. Have attended the national conventions for the last thirty years. Don't

"What are your opinions respecting the last Congress ?

"Now, to tell the truth, I don't think much of 'cm. A stupid lot. Cadet brokers and Pacific slopers—that's what I call 'em—hey! They ain't so lively and gentlemanly now-a-days as they used to be. They all go in for cheap board, and all that. They save their revenues to speculate in lots. Not half so genteel as a good square game of faro or seven up. That used to be the way in my day. I was a cotemporary of Henry Clay-had the honor of being born down near where he was. They boast that old Hanover county produced three great Americans—Patrick Henry, Henry Clay and you know the third, hey? There's no need of a great man being so devilish modest, you know. I'm not what I was though; that's a fact. Used to be a great beau with the ladies at White Sulphur Springs-well let me see, about 1830. There was a d-d upstart there—some count or other—called the "beau of the season." I swore it was a shame to America to have to import our dandies.

'The afternoon I got there, just before dinner, out on the verandab, where everybody could hear him, he called out to his valet, 'Here, Jim, bring me my ninety second waist-coat for dinner.' Then I called out louder to my boy, 'Bring me my one hundred and ninety-second pair of pantaloons, and fifty sixth coat.' He bolted by the next evening's train. Bolted is a word from the turf, you know. I 'saw him and went him one hundred better,' as they say in bluff. That's the way I came to be called 'Beau."

The Standard reporter here making a demonstration toward the door, the distinguished personage above described inquired if he knew what "chips" were? Professing ignorance and a teachable spirit, he was instructed to the effect that the Beau calls a $1 bill "white chip," a $5 bill "red chip," and a $20 bill "blue chip." A half a dollar he calls a "spilt chip." These phrases, he informed his auditor, he had borrowed from the gaming room to designate the amounts he was accustomed to to him, or introduced themselves to him, or to whom he introduced himself." The reporter took the hint and gave the Great Interviewed 20 pieces Bleached and Unbleached Canton Flannels; Red, White and Blue Woolen Flannels. These goods very cheap.

sep 24—tf WM. N. BERKLEY: the "chip," whereupon they parted.

RIVER BOTTOM FARMS. - The late floods in the James and Shenandoah rivers have been most disastrous to crops on the low grounds on these streams. In view of the constant liability of the rich alluvial fields which lie on their banks to be destroyed by overflows and the frequency of such cases, we are disposed to doubt the correctness of the universally prevalent idea that river bottoms are more valuable for cultivation than improved uplands. It is true that they are far more productive than the more elevated lands which are beyond the reach of freshets. The soil too is much deeper and stronger as well as more durable. But still, the fact that the crops which are cultivated on these rich flats are every year exposed to devastation by an enemy that can neither be avoided or resisted, cannot be denied. There is no stream, however, great or small, whose bottoms have been prepared for tillage, that is not pregnant with the danger of which we speak, and universal experi-ence testifies to the uncertainty of crops along their margins. We do not mean by these remarks to condemn the practice of tarmers and planters in cultivating their low grounds. This they should do, for all human things are subject to vicissitudes. But we will take the occasion to say that the wiser course would be in all cases for them to improve their uplands and render them as luxuriant as possible, for by so doing they will be largely in FALL AND WINTER TRADE. demnified for the losses they may sustain by inundations. It has been pretty much the custom heretofore to put the bulk of the crop in the river fields and to trust the whole year's profit to the chances of escape from the watery grave which may at any time sweep it away. By equally dividing his labor and attention between his low ground and uplands, the evil would be corrected, and he would have the ad ditional advantage of the increased productiveness of the latter by a regular, judicious pro cess of fertilization. Our opinion is that highly improved upland is more valuable than bot-

-Petersburg Courier. How we go to Sleep .- The order in which the muscies lose their power is deserving of a passing notice. The muscles which move the arms and legs usually become relaxed before those which maintain the body in an erect posi tion. There are, however, many exceptions to this rule, as may be seen in church on a hot Sunday, when some of the congregation are almost certain to be seen with their chins quietly resting on their chests, but yet tightly grasping their prayer books. In relation to the special senses, that of sight is first lost, the closing of the eyelids setting up a barrier between the retina and the external world. Some animals, as the hare, do not shut their eyes when asleep; and in cases of somnambulism the eyes remain open, although the sense of sight is temporarily lost. The other senses are not altogather abolished; but their acuteness is much lessened. Taste is the first and then smell; hearing follows; and touch is the most persistent of the senses. So, conversely, a person is most easily awakened by the sense of touch; next tom land, because it is not subject to the terrible visitation of an overflow, which so often blasts alike the hopes and labors of the farmer.

in order by sounds, and then by smell. MR. WEARE WESTON, a very enthusiastic Democrat, who lately died in New Hamshire, left a will and testament in which he enjoined it upon his executors to have him borne to his grave by "six true Democrats," and to pay six illars to each of the bearers. He also directed that no funeral services should be performed over his remains, unless a clergyman could be found "who had never preached political or war sermons." The result was that such a minister could not be found in the neighbor-hood, and the obstinate old Democrat was Bale by buried like a Pagan.

Immediately cured and Full Vigor Restored.

This distressing Affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgencies. Young persons are too apt to commission of the dreadmit excesses from not being aware of the dread-iul consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to dethat understands the subject will pretend to deny that the natural powers are lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened.—Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion. DR. JOHNSTON,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeo , London, Graduate of one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately. TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either busines, study, society or marriage.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, viz: Weaknese of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsis, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, Sc.

MENTALLY—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced. Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms

Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, already described, a habit frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both nind and body, should apple immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in pernicious habits. Such persons must, before concious habits. Such persons must, before con-

When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-imed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone betriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deatness, nodes or the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commiscration till death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by sending him to that undiscovered country "from whence no traveller returns."

It is a melancholy fact that thousands DIE victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the hands of ignorant or unskilful PRE-TENDERS, who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the constitution, and incapable of curing, keep the unhappy sufferer month after month taking their noxious or injurious compounds, and instead of being restored to a renewal of Life. Vigor and Happirestored to a renewal of Life. ler returns." restored to a renewal of Life, Vigor and Happiness, in despuir leave him with ruined Health to sigh over his galling disappointment.
